

ABOUT Us

WHO WE ARE

Macchi & Macchi is defined by a group of attorneys with skills and experiences that set us apart from any other firm in the area. “What makes us different” can be summed up in three ways:

1. Institutional Knowledge. Our three attorneys have a combined 75+ years of practice in Norfolk County. As a result, our institutional knowledge of all things Metrowest is comprehensive and second to none.
2. Unique Culture. Our managing partner, Phil Macchi, a graduate of West Point, has 30+ years of military experience, which creates a culture for the Firm based on leadership, integrity, excellence, and grit. Moreover, his expertise in strategic planning and project management for the military has proven to be a tremendous asset to our clients.
3. Diverse Backgrounds. Our attorneys have diverse and complimentary backgrounds that combine to provide clients with the expertise and results expected of a large downtown firm, but with the personal attention and approachability of your local attorney. We are as comfortable in a Fortune 50 boardroom as we are on a small manufacturer’s shop floor or in a homeowner’s living room.

WHAT WE DO

Macchi & Macchi specializes in permitting and development, commercial real estate law, environmental law, residential real estate, estate planning and probate administration, and business law.

Commercial real estate – specifically permitting, land use, zoning, and development – is the cornerstone of our practice, and we provide trusted and strategic counsel for the largest and most complex retail, industrial, and residential developments in the area.

We also take pride in fostering the establishment and ongoing success of local small- and medium-sized businesses, and in providing guidance for individuals and families on their most personal legal matters. Whether we are assisting an international Fortune 50 company with a $300 million-dollar facility expansion or assisting a newly married couple with the purchase of their first home, we provide each and every client with legal representation that is tailored to meet their exact needs.

HOW WE WORK

No matter who you are or what your specific legal needs may be, we meet you where you are.

We assess the legal aspects of the issue(s), harmonize your legal position with your desired strategic outcome, and provide you with the inputs needed to move you thoughtfully and decisively toward your goal. Our methods are strategic, meticulous, and cost-effective. Our communications are concise, straightforward, and respectful. Our results are thorough, reliable, and robust. We don’t waste your time or ours, and we pride ourselves on resolving matters correctly the first time.
